“ I remember you, Allen from a very young age. It's those whom I attended grade school, that I have the best memories about. As I remember Allen, I see a redheaded, sweet and sometimes bashful guy. I can still see your ear to ear grin. I remember your smiles when our lives were young and carefree. That's how I choose to remember you, Allen. I am thankful for that memory, and hope to see you in Heaven one day, Where we can share the Joy of the presence of Jesus together.
