

Billy Edward Little

October 5, 1980 - July 11, 2025

Billy Edward Little, age 44, of Flint, Michigan, passed away on July 11, 2025, leaving behind a legacy of love, laughter, and unforgettable memories.

Born on October 5, 1980, in Flint, Michigan, Billy was the cherished son of Janet Little and the late Billy Little. Affectionately known by many as “Bo,” he was a man whose presence could fill a room with warmth, laughter, and unforgettable stories.

He is survived by his daughter, Keira Little. Though their time together was limited, Keira remained an important part of Billy’s heart throughout his life.

Billy shared a close and loving bond with his sisters, Tina Mosher (Bryan) and Lisa Compson (Bodie), and was a beloved uncle to his nieces and nephews: Brandon Washburn (Maria), Blake Washburn, Brianna Washburn, Bryan Washburn, and Macy Compson. He was also a proud great-uncle to Vivian Washburn, Maelyn Washburn, and Scotlynn Washburn.

He also leaves behind his loving girlfriend, Brooke Handy, who stood faithfully by his side and filled his days with care and companionship. Billy formed a special bond with Brooke’s children, Mahryea and Aiden, whom he cared for deeply and loved as his own. He also held great affection and respect for Brooke’s parents, who welcomed him into their lives with kindness and warmth.

Billy was a proud and hardworking member of both Iron Workers Local 25 and Sheet Metal Workers Local 7. He took great pride in his craft and built his career with strength, skill, and determination.

Outside of work, Bo was just as strong in spirit and even more unforgettable. He was known for turning even the most awkward or difficult moments into something funny. He had a natural gift for lightening heavy situations, often using humor to ease tension and bring comfort to those around him. His quick wit and ability to laugh—even in hard times—made him someone people naturally turned to.

He fought fiercely for the people he loved and never hesitated to stand up for what he believed in. Billy was always up for an adventure—whether it was trying out a wild idea, riding his motorcycle down open roads, or embracing the unexpected with curiosity and courage.

He was also a passionate sports fan who proudly rooted for the Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions—no matter the score. Game days were important to him, and cheering on his teams was just another way he shared excitement and connection with the people around him.

He had a spontaneous spirit and a loyal heart, and he lived his life with boldness, humor, and deep affection for those close to him.

At this time, there is no service scheduled, but the family plans to celebrate and honor Billy's life at a later date.

In remembrance of Billy, the family kindly invites you to plant a tree or flower as a living tribute to his memory.

Though gone too soon, Billy will be remembered always for the love he gave and the light he shared.
