“ Ronnie:

I promise to move forward in love and light. You didn't have a mean bone in your body and we're always quick to lend a helping hand.

I know deep down you would want your death to bring people together and not further apart.

I will do everything in my power to follow your example of love and kindness. By doing so, I am honoring you and your legacy of love and kindness. ❤️

I will always be someone Cam can turn to. I will share with him all of my fond memories of you. Your laughter, your goofy and playful side, and tell him just how much you loved him and being his father.

“ My Nephew You'll Always Be

*As a baby, you loved to smile
And chase me around*

Often We played together and I'll always remember Your genuine smile

Through the years, you grew up Strong and tall

Before my eyes, You transformed from a baby, toddler, teenager, and young man into a husband and such a strong family man. My favorite was watching you become a father.

I could feel the love you had for Cam by watching you interact, comfort, nurture and teach him.

I loved watching you grow and turn into a young, thoughtful, kind, well mannered, respectful, and considerate young man. You made/make me so proud each day to be your aunt! ❤️

I was always and will always be impressed with your drive, heart, intelligence, sense of humor, goofy and playfulness, kindness and willingness to help others.

One of my fondest recent memories was your wedding when Kinley and Sienna were dancing with you and your friends and groomsmen. I recall Kinley sort of stealing the show and copying moves one of your friends just showed her.

When I saw my girls dancing with you it filled my heart with such joy.

Sadly, we always think we have more time, they'll be more memories but sadly that isn't so.

My nephew you'll always be! And I'll always be proud of the man you became.

I promise to squeeze Cam extra for you!

In loving memory of Ronnie Fall, Jr.

*Love,
Aunt Sue Sue*

“ I loved you first

*At the age of 13, I became your aunt
You had a contagious smile and a recognizable laugh*

*I loved you first
Before I had any babies of my own*

*From your first breath, first words, and first steps
I loved you first*

*As you grew older and taller
I was both impressed and in awe of you.
There was nothing you couldn't do*

I loved you first

It didn't take long for me to see your natural athletic ability, your ability to connect with others, and you excelled at everything set your mind to

I loved you first

Always passionate in all you did and stood tall and proud. A shining example for us all and a man of his word.

I loved you first

Please know I was most proud of your integrity and your generous and thoughtful heart.

I wish you could have seen yourself through my eyes, the love, the warmth, you radiated like the sun and had the warmest energy. You also gave the best hugs. I'd do anything to have one right now.

Your light won't ever fully go out and as long as I'm breathing, your memories are here with me.

I loved you first before I became a mother myself.

In loving memory of Ronnie Albert Fall, Jr.

*Love Always,
Aunt Sue Sue*

“ I wish I could turn back time and have just one more day, one more conversation, one more huge hug to give a few special people I'm missing.

Tomorrow is never promised. Some leave us long before we were ever ready. Truth be told, for some I'd never be ready.....

Ronnie you were one of those people I'd never willingly let go of. I love you infinity.

I remember many times when you were a baby just watching you for your mom while she worked and went out. She was a young mom.

I loved being your aunt and chasing you around.

I especially loved it when you crawled and chased after me.

I recall once watching you and your cousin Ashley as babies (you were both a month apart in age) and you both got hungry at the same time. It was a challenge but I had to feed you both in your car seats and take turns burping you both. Later your moms came back from camping and took you both. I kept hearing babies crying when you were both gone.

I'll hold all of my memories of you close to my heart. I'm sad and angry you're not here on Earth but I'm glad and very thankful you are no longer in pain.

Hug your baby sister for me! 🤗

“ This is how I will always remember you. Such an amazing father first and foremost, tender heart, a love and zest for life whether it was riding dirt bikes or chasing your dreams so fiercely. You always made me laugh and always had a smile to give.

Above all though you were a family man. A man who loves his family and son so fiercely and you loved your friends like family too.

I will always love you and do things to keep your memory alive.

It doesn't seem fair. My heart is not ready to let you go. I wish I could have helped during your time of struggle.

I'll always cherish and hold close my memories of babysitting you as an infant and you crawling towards me and chasing me with that little mischievous grin.

I love you infinity! Fly high! I'll see you again someday...

“ I have so many memories of you with that big smile. I remember babysitting you at Maw Maw’s house and you crawling to me and chasing me everywhere. I miss those days where everything seemed right with the world. I can’t believe you’re gone.

“ I offer my greatest condolences to all that knew and loved Ron. I'm sure there are many. Although we hadn't had not much contact in recent years, I'll always remember "Ronnie" as being one of the sweetest kids--as he was so well- behaved, kind- hearted, and respectable as a child. His smile glowed, and it was always a pleasure to see him and to have him around. I'm sure that never changed throughout the years. I'm sure he continued to bring smiles to anyone he encountered, and I'm sure he will be sorely missed. May he rest in peace. May all that knew him heal with the assurance that Ron loved them.

I also remember Ron as child and can only reiterate what Chris has already said. Ron's enthusiasm over his new snowmobile is what I remember most. My sincere condolences. May God Rest His Soul, and the family heal quickly.
